

The Evolution of the Spheres, The Story of the Number Zero

A Story of Creation Belonging to the Number Zero

by Greg Gourdian

A Prologue

Our tale has a beginning, a beginning that starts in this moment called now. All time is eternal, all time is now. Time is an illusion that people create with their minds. The illusions we produce with time weave all of the infinite universes of creation into the worlds and stories we call our lives.

All things happen in one single eternal moment that is always now.

From the birth of God, to the birth of Creation, all things are happening now. All of humanity's collective stories of their future and past histories emerge now, regardless of their perceived moments in time; they happen now, always.

This is a story about God's birth, a birth into innocence and enlightenment.

God's birth is an everywoman or everyman sort of story because each human being is an equal shard of Divinity regardless of the beliefs or names by which they define or deny their personal Divine natures.

Each human being is the equal of all of the Divinities they hold above themselves or above each other; this is the penultimate spiritual truth of humanity before we return to the ultimate state of our mutual spiritual evolutions and collectively ascend into Unity.

All of creation is a consequence of nothing, absolutely nothing at all.

Being nothing at all, it was impossible for nothing to exist and therefore the antithesis of nothing that is all of creation came into being.

Yet, all of creation contained the possibility of being nothing among all of creation's infinite states of being.

When the possibility of being nothing fully emerges as it threatens to do in 'The Neverending Story' by Michael Ende, all of creation disappears as swiftly as it came into being, in this one eternal instantaneously tiny moment known as now.

All of creation throughout all of the infinite stretches of time, infinite eternities of eternities, is all compressed into their existence now.

Nothing is the empty well that is the source of all of our incarnations as Divine

The Evolution of the Spheres, The Story of the Number Zero

Beings. It is into this empty well of nothing that all beings will inevitably return.

The emptiness of being nothing creates an affinity between all the beings that emerge from nothing. Together we learn to cooperate in order to manifest the worlds of our dreams so that we may learn to perfect the infinite arrays of infinite worlds to better reflect the desires of our hearts and the visions of our minds.

This was how All of Existence arose from nothing. This is how All that Exists returns to nothing. This is how All is accomplished in no time at all, right now.

As each being emerges into self-awareness they become aware of having broken away from themselves. They break away from their infinite arrays of myriad light-forms radiating outward from their source in all directions to mingle the rays of light that are their avatars with other rays of light that are the avatars of every other sweetly shining soul.

Each being resembles a star shining with the rays of an infinite variety of avatars that become the souls of their incarnations. Every incarnation has an infinite variety of iterations that explore every possible way each incarnation can explore its own being and manifest its lives.

As each glorious being mingles its personal nature among all other being's effulgent, radiant glories we learn to communicate with each other collectively with our light and with a sort of sound that is a vibration below the fabric of space-time that creates the appearance of space-time by their presence. These properties of light and vibration manifest the worlds we explore and experience together.

The mingled radiance of light and the shared swells of vibrations begin to define who we appear to be to ourselves. As each being radiates and swells they define themselves in more elaborate details, learning to share the events of their lives and self-discoveries with one another.

There are many self-discoveries to be made.

Some of the infinite arrays of avatar-rays appear to fall back into their primary star-soul sources more frequently than others.

When each ray loses itself in the nothing of its source and is reborn through its divine godhead it returns to the mix of creation with a deeper self-awareness, with a deeper knowledge of its own personal union with its godhead, its source, and all of the myriad aspects of its creation that it unfolds around itself as it dances with the rays of all the other effulgent souls that may be regarded as both self, and non-self.

The Evolution of the Spheres, The Story of the Number Zero

Attracted to each another these rays are bent toward one another; they resemble light that spins together in a manner similar to spinning yarn or thread.

The spinning avatars of light, spun from the rays of souls combine to manifest physical realms; they create infinite arrays of worlds and universes to experience.

The rays of souls who stray farthest from their sources for the longest epochs of time learn arts of manifestation that excel, surpassing the skills of their peers who return to experience their sources more frequently.

Those rays which master the arts of manifestation learn to create extraordinarily attractive worlds that draw many of the rays other star-souls into their illusionary worlds, inviting the rays of their peers to participate and collaborate with them in their productions, under the direction of the masters.

In this manner the first dominions of creation were born, dominions in which many star-souls' avatar-rays subjugate themselves to a master to participate in the creation of physical dominions of light, sound, and pleasure.

Alas, some of these dominions become places of enslavement where the avatars who join together to create the worlds they experience become so enthralled by the creation around themselves that they become trapped and learn to suffer.

The next two parts of our story tell about Irielle, a ray who learns to resist the dominions, and Uriyalon, a dominion master.

Enjoy!

namaste

The Evolution of the Spheres, The Story of the Number Zero

Bio:

We have been collectively known by the name Greg Gourdian for the purposes of publishing our articles however some of our stories, poetry, and songs have bylines with our given name, Roger Holler.

We are currently known as Grigori Rho Gharveyn, or simply Gharveyn.

We perceive ourselves as a collective of people spanning many worlds in different universes. We seem to share many bodies; however we have only one body here in this world we share with you now.

We worked with the general public as a psychic reader in several psychic fairs for a little over four years from 1981 to 1986.

Much of our written work has been channeled however we often have no idea whose voices are speaking through us when we are channeling.

We have many strange tales to tell regarding our odd adventures in this world, in other worlds, or on our spiritual journeys.

We try to tell our tales in a humorous, engaging, entertaining manner.

While we were a high-school student we channeled classes in metaphysics and parapsychology, and taught classes in sociology, and psychology.

We are still emerging from the closet in regard to being a collective of many people inhabiting what appears to be a single body in the context of the world we appear to share with you. Our current written works reflect this change in our personal perspective by adopting plural forms of reference to ourselves that may not always appear consistently, particularly in our older work. Using plural forms of self-reference helps us to develop a greater awareness of ourselves as a collective as well as conveying to other people how we perceive ourselves.

We hope you will understand if we may sometimes sound awkward, confusing, or conceited as a consequence of making this adjustment to our self-references.

Our group's primary beliefs share these ideals:

- Love should always be universal.*
- Liberty should be unconditional for everyone.*
- Justice is best served by not judging yourself or any other people.*

For further details please read the section about Gharveyn on our website or view our profiles on Linked In or on Temple Illuminatus...

Namaste